Job Purpose

The key focus for Wealdstone FC Photographers will primarily revolve around the capture of imagery – and short-form video if technology allows – that helps bring the soul and values of the club to life.

Aspiring photographers, whether still-life or action is of particular interest, will enjoy a role laced with creative freedom within the parameters of a multi-disciplinary club which includes a thriving social club as well a sport in its remit.

Photographers will work collaboratively with other Communications, Digital and Design roles within the club's Media Team and will need to own, or being able to loan, equipment (ideally DSLR / mirrorless).

The role is focused on growing interest and engagement around a progressive organisation by telling the story of the club and its people – ups & downs, whatever the weather – with a compelling and authentic style that might challenge accepted football industry norms.

Key areas of contribution to Wealdstone FC's Media Team

- Capture and publish – likely to a shared Google Drive or similar – a range of either instantly usable imagery unless working to a specific studio / shoot brief which requires post-editing
- Seek to bring to life human interest “through the eyes of” tales” using freedom of imagination
- Work to a set ‘Content Brief’ at times, but also ready to allow creative thoughts lead capture
- Provide a key resource for content creation on matchdays (First-Team, Women's, Academy)
- Collaborate with teammates, all putting the club's best outcomes at the heart of all actions
- Enthuse over opportunities to gain experience of Media Team life outside of the Photographer remit; a ‘happy to try’ attitude key to success

Knowledge, Skills and Experience Required

- Knowledge: a basic understanding of the role football clubs play in their communities and an interest in football itself will lead to a better outcome for club and, more importantly, volunteer student.
- Skills: a love of photography and probably at least an interest in design, to afford an appreciation of how captured imagery may be purposed across club output. The ability to be pro-active of thought yet flexible enough to react quickly if the situation requires.
- Experience: previous experience of capturing images in a pressurised setting would be useful, but not essential. A can-do attitude and willingness to learn and develop is more important.
